TSA Clubs Seek Support for National Event

The Ithaca High School and DeWitt Middle School Technology Student Association (TSA) clubs have launched a crowdfunding campaign to raise money to enable them to compete at the 2014 national conference in Washington, D.C. The campaign is part of an IthacaSTEM Advocates pilot project to test crowdfunding as a way for STEM-related clubs and activities to raise money so that all interested students can participate. Click here to access the campaign where all donations are tax-deductible. The campaign runs through Friday, May 16, 2014. Much of the work is being done by the students themselves - be sure to watch their excellent campaign video!

Code Red Robotics Shares at Sciencenter

Last month 33 members of Ithaca High School’s FIRST Robotics team, Code Red Robotics, traveled to St. Louis Missouri, where they competed at the FRC Championship. This international event hosted the 400 best teams from around the world, as they competed for the championship title. Code Red performed admirably, frequently holding the #1 position in their 100 team division over the first two days. Members of the team will share their experience and robotics program with the community at a special Sciencenter showcase on Saturday, May 17, at 2:00 p.m.
